You can reduce your chances of falling:

People with strong legs and good balance are less likely to fall. No matter what your abilities are today, you can improve your strength and balance.

Challenge Your Balance

- Balance is controlling your movements.
- Begin with exercises you can do confidently and, as you improve, move to more difficult moves.
- Plan to work on balance 3 times per week.

Build Strength

- Do exercises for your leg muscles.
- Use bands, weights or your own body weight.
- Try squats, hamstring curls, and side leg lifts.

Be Active

- Do physical activities you enjoy!
- Try to do 30 minutes of moderate or vigorous activity at least 5 times per week.

Remember, you're never too old, or too young to start.

Here are ways you can Challenge Your Balance, Build Your Strength and Be Active

Group Exercise Classes

- Join a class at a seniors' centre or recreation facility.
- Supervised group programs can help you learn exercises and grow confidence.
- For balance, try tai chi, yoga, or sports like pickleball or badminton.
- For strength, try a weight training class.

Hit the Gym

- Develop a routine using weights or machines.
- Work on all your major muscle groups.
- Ask a trainer or gym staff to teach you proper technique.

Try a Home Exercise Routine

Everyday Exercises For Older Adults is available on findingbalancealberta.ca

For strength, use resistance bands, weights, or your own body weight.

For balance, practice movements like:

- reaching while standing
- toe and heel raises
- stepping in different directions
- step-ups
- half-squats.

Be Active

- Walk, dance, garden, bicycle or swim.
- More is better, so be active at every opportunity.
